We had a brilliant response to our Book Fair Launch on Friday. The fair will be in school until Thursday morning—there are some lovely books and bargains to be had.

Carr Hill have asked us to remind parents of those children joining them this September that there is a New Parents' Evening on Thursday 20th June.

We are very excited this week as our new playground equipment is being installed. Thank you for your patience in bringing children in the front of school; we look forward to seeing what it all looks like when it is finished at the end of next week.
